Yea thats ok dale..see you then.

Cool.

Been talking the script through with Lee and I need to remove and change quite a bit because the scenes are too long. But the direction is mostly the same feel.

Basically the test lighting today will be him becoming effected whilst watching violence on a laptop.

Are you alright meeting outside of the library I'm filming down the d block corridor in a room

In the library.

but can get it on Thursday

This is how it turned on on camera. im thinking off adding in a little more operation with a light so youre not as blended in with the background but on loc that should be easier there wasn't much to shine a light on in the studio background wise.

They look gd..intense!..should be great once everythings put together..

Yeah! Should be.
